

About Amy Brackett

As a Senior Wealth Advisor at Revolve Wealth Partners, Amy works with individuals, families, and non-profits to help build a path towards their financial goals. She has a deep-rooted commitment to helping educate and guide clients in all areas of wealth planning including investment management, insurance, employee benefits, financial planning, and estate and tax planning.

Amy has worked in the financial industry for over 20 years and is a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis. Amy holds the CFA® and CFP® designations as well as the Certified Divorce Financial Analyst (CDFA) certification.

Amy currently serves on the Investment Committee and Board of the Reform Pension Board and as well as the Board of the Union for Reform Judaism. She previously served on the Board of Trustees of East End Temple (where she has been a member since 2006) and on the Investment Committee of the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. She lives in New York City with her husband and two children, who love attending URJ Eisner Camp in the summer.
